DETAILED ACTION

Claims 1-59 are pending.

Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1,4-9, 13-27 and 55-59, drawn to compound of formula I wherein $Z^1 = N$, $Z^7= N$, namely 1,2,4-triazine compound, composition and method of use.

Group II, claim(s) 1, 2, 4-29, 31, 32, 34, 35, 37, 38 and 40-59 drawn to compound of formula I wherein $Z^1 = N$, $Z^7= C(U)_nR^Y$, namely pyrimidine compound, composition and method of use.

Group III, claim(s) 1, 4-9,13-27 and 55-59, drawn to compound of formula I wherein $Z^1 = CH$, $Z^7= N$, namely pyridazine compound, composition and method of use.

Group IV, claim(s) 1, 3-28, 30, 31, 33, 34, 36, 37, 39 and 40-59, drawn to compound of formula I wherein $Z^1 = CH$, $Z^7= C(U)_nR^Y$, namely pyridine compound, composition and method of use.

The inventions listed as Groups I, II, III and IV do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

Where there is lack of unity the requirement for restriction is proper- See MPEP 803.02. The requirement for unity of invention is two-fold: (1) common utility and (2) sharing a substantial structural feature disclosed as being essential to the utility.

Invention I, II, III and IV are independent and distinct from each other because they are directed to structurally dissimilar compounds that lack common core, namely, 1,2,4-triazine versus pyrimidine versus pyridazine versus pyridine. Consequently, the groups require separate prior art searches. They can be made and used independently. Art which may render obvious or anticipate one of the groups would not necessarily do the same for the other group. For example prior art cited in the International Search Report may not be applicable to all the above groups. Each can support a patent as the compounds of each group are capable of being utilized alone not in combination with other members listed in the Markush group.

Except for the N-C-NH and ring carbon, every ring element in the core is varied and it cannot be said that the above two features essentially contribute to utility recited in the claims. Thus the common structural feature essential for the said utility is not met with.

In addition, common utility requirement is also not met with as evident form the claims that these compounds can be used for treating cancer as well many other disease as evident form the instant claims 56-59 and the references cited in the IDS. Thus both the criteria set forth for unity of invention is not met with.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions anticipated by the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

In view of distinct nature of each of the invention, the restriction is set forth in writing.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
